Re: 242095 Surf Acquisition I LLC d/b/a Boardwalk Nursing & Rehab Ctr

Date: October 23, 2026

Long Term Care Ombudsman Program Review:

The Office of the State Long Term Care Ombudsman has received and reviewed the application for change in ownership submitted by Surf Acquisition I LLC d/b/a Boardwalk Nursing & Rehab Ctr. The proposed owners are currently involved in the operations of 17 facilities across the state. The Program has a weekly presence in 4 of the facilities, and a quarterly presence in 13 of the facilities.

The Office reviewed programmatic interactions and complaints received from all 17 facilities. There were some systemic concerns that arose across the majority of the facilities. These concerns are related to communication, discharges, and staffing.

Residents and families have expressed on numerous occasions in many of the facilities that emails sent to the facility are not responded to by administration or staff. Our program has found that this seems to be a corporate policy to not respond via email. Facilities also utilize automated calls for disseminating information that may be intended only for the family they are calling, such as for care plan meetings. Families express frustration with this as they want to be able to plan dates and times for these meetings and these automated calls do not allow for that. Facilities do state they will speak with residents and families in person or on the phone, however for some families this is difficult to do. While the facility provides opportunities for communication, it is not always meeting what residents and families need. The facility should consider the option of email communication to ensure residents and families feel updated and that their concerns are being heard.

The program has received concerns from a few of the facilities regarding discharges, especially from residents not wanting to be transferred to other nursing homes once they complete rehab. The program has assisted residents with appealing those discharges. The program is also not receiving the regulatory required discharge notices in a timely manner. The program is sometimes receiving them more than a week after they have been issued, which limits the time frame to be able to assist residents who may want to appeal their discharge.

The program has received concerns from several facilities regarding staffing, especially on weekends and nights. Ombudsman have discussed these concerns with the facilities, who do report they are working on increasing staff. Facilities could consider limiting admissions if staffing is not sufficient to meet the needs of the residents.

One of the 17 facilities not only experiences the above-mentioned systemic concerns, but also several additional issues that include language access, resident care, and further discharge and transfer concerns within the facility itself. The program is actively discussing these concerns with the facility administration to try to resolve these areas for the residents and families.

Based on these concerns, the Office recommends the Council consider a contingent approval, where the proposed owner develops a plan to address ways to improve communication, provide discharge notices to the Ombudsman timely, as well as ensure discharges are appropriate, and develop a plan to increase staffing to ensure resident care is meeting the resident's needs.

Re: 251255 Elizabeth NY SNF Operations LLC d/b/a Elizabeth Church Manor Nursing Home

Date: October 23, 2026

Long Term Care Ombudsman Program Review:

The Office of the State Long Term Care Ombudsman has received and reviewed the application for change in ownership submitted by Elizabeth NY SNF Operations LLC d/b/a Elizabeth Church Manor Nursing Home. The Office reviewed the subject facility only, as the proposed owners are currently involved in the operations of the facility. The proposed owners do not operate any other facilities in New York.

The Office reviewed programmatic interactions and complaints received by this facility. Findings indicate the proposed owners are more responsive to the Ombudsman than the previous Administration when issues are brought to their attention, and they work with the program to resolve and address concerns raised by residents and families. Residents have reported improved food quality under the new administration. The proposed owners have also been making investments in the building to improve the environment for residents. Some of the improvements that have been noted are repairs to porches and elevators as well as refurbishing outdoor areas.

The Ombudsman Program has filed one recent complaint with the Department of Health regarding this facility. At the time of this review the Office has not received the outcome of the complaint and it remains an open investigation. Due to confidentiality requirements, the nature of the complaint is unable to be shared, however it can be noted that it was not related to a systemic concern that would affect the overall recommendation.

Based on this review, the Office does not have any objection to the approval of this application.

Re: 252096 Beach Tree Operations, LLC d/b/a Beechtree Center for Rehabilitation & Nursing

Date: October 23, 2026

Long Term Care Ombudsman Program Review:

The Office of the State Long Term Care Ombudsman has received and reviewed the application for change in ownership submitted by Beach Tree Operations, LLC d/b/a Beechtree Center for Rehabilitation & Nursing. The Office reviewed the 5 facilities currently operated by the proposed owners. There is a weekly Ombudsman presence in three facilities and a monthly presence in two facilities. The Office reviewed programmatic interactions and complaints received from all 5 facilities.

The proposed owners are currently involved in the operations of the subject facility. The Administration does meet with the residents and the ombudsman program to hear their concerns, however when issues are raised, they are not responding timely to resolve any of the issues discussed. There is frequent follow-up needed to address repeat concerns that go on with no resolution.

One of the facilities reviewed has historically been a poor performer. Recently there have been some slight improvements made, however there are similar issues with response to resident concerns as the subject facility. Also, there seems to be frequent turnover in administration and other key positions which may be contributing to the difficulty in providing any meaningful improvements to the facility and the communication with residents and the ombudsman program.

The remaining 3 facilities do not have any of the above-mentioned concerns and leadership actively works with residents, families and the ombudsman program to address concerns. The majority of issues are resolved timely and to the residents' satisfaction.

The Office of the State Long-Term Care Ombudsman is a programmatically independent advocacy service located within the New York State Office for the Aging. Points of view, opinions or positions of the Ombudsman Program do not necessarily represent the views, positions or policy of the New York State Office for the Aging.

Based on the Office's review of any programmatic interactions and complaints received for these facilities, the Office recommends a contingent approval where the proposed owners develop a plan to hear residents' concerns and actively respond to them in a timely manner to ensure residents have input regarding their living environment and the care they receive in their home.

What is the current availability of professional/paraprofessional workers to staff your program? Who are the competing employers?

The Agency maintains a stable and well-established workforce to ensure continuity of care for our patients. At present, we employ approximately 85 Home Health Aides and Personal Care Aides who provide direct paraprofessional services to our patient population. In addition, our clinical team consists of 2 licensed registered nurses who perform nursing assessments, care planning, supervisory visits and ongoing clinical oversight in accordance with New York State Department of Health regulations.

This staffing model reflects our longstanding capacity to meet the needs of our existing patient population. Our workforce is actively engaged in serving our current patients and we have sufficient staffing resources to maintain all authorized services without interruption. The Agency has the professional and paraprofessional availability necessary to continue providing high-quality compliant care under the proposed change of ownership.

How do you propose to successfully compete? Include training, recruitment, and transportation strategies.

As an established LHCSA, our Agency has been successfully competing in the New York marketplace for many years. We have a recognized reputation and have consistently demonstrated our ability to recruit and train qualified staff. We have built strong relationships with referrals and community partners for referral of potential candidates. We already have our footprint and will continue to rely on the same proven practices, workforce capacity and reputation for compliance and quality that have enabled us to serve our community effectively to date.

How do you coordinate with the Department of Labor or any other local workforce initiatives?

The Agency coordinates with the New York State Department of Labor and other local workforce development initiatives which support recruitment, retention and training of home care paraprofessionals. We routinely post-employment opportunities and work collaboratively with local workforce development boards, colleges, and training programs to identify candidates for paraprofessional roles.

What impact will the initiation/expansion of your program have on the workforce or other health care providers in the community? How will you minimize any adverse impact?

This question is not directly applicable to our application. The Agency is not initiating or expanding services. The application relates to a change of ownership, and the Agency is maintaining its existing operations and patient population. We are an established LHCSA that has successfully served our community for many years, and our workforce and provider relationships are already fully integrated and established. Accordingly, the proposed transaction will have no negative impact on the workforce or other health providers in the community. Our staffing model and referral relationships will remain unchanged, and we will continue with the same services with no interruption. The change of ownership is administrative only and does not introduce competition or adversely affect other providers.

What measures will you adopt to promote retention of specific categories of your workforce?

We will continue with our established measures designed to support the retention of our workforce, including offering competitive compensation and benefits packages in accordance with applicable wages and hourly laws and regulations. We acknowledge and reward long-term service, promoting loyalty and retention among both professional and paraprofessional staff. We collaborate with community partners, training programs to create career pipelines, providing aides and nurses with opportunities for advancement and ongoing engagement in the field. We are committed to continuing these efforts to ensure staff satisfaction and retention, which in turn supports the highest standard of patient care.

1. Availability of Professional and Paraprofessional Workers; Competition; Training, Recruitment and Transportation Strategies; and Workforce Initiatives

Hope Home Care, Inc. is licensed to provide services throughout all five boroughs of New York City and maintains recruitment, training, workforce-development, and staffing processes that support operations throughout its service area. While these strategies are utilized citywide, several examples below focus on Staten Island, Hope's longest-established and strongest service area, to illustrate how the agency adapts its workforce strategies to local workforce availability, transportation conditions, and patient needs.

Current Workforce Environment and Competition

The availability of qualified professional and paraprofessional healthcare workers remains competitive throughout New York City. Hope competes for workers with other LHCSAs, hospitals, nursing homes, assisted living facilities, developmental-disability service organizations, staffing companies, and other healthcare and human-service employers.

Hope currently employs approximately 250 direct-care professional and paraprofessional workers, including RNs, LPNs, HHAs, and PCAs, throughout its service area. Hope's workforce strategy does not rely solely upon recruiting workers who are already employed by other healthcare providers. The agency utilizes a broader workforce-development approach that combines the recruitment of experienced professional and paraprofessional workers with the identification, training, and development of new entrants into the healthcare workforce and individuals seeking advancement within the healthcare field.

Staten Island provides a useful example of the workforce environment in which Hope operates. Hope has identified approximately 16 LHCSA offices physically located on Staten Island and 15 NYSDOH-approved home health aide training programs located in the borough.

Although 15 training programs are approved to operate on Staten Island, the number of approved programs does not necessarily reflect the number actively conducting classes and producing new workers at a particular time. Hope has contacted these programs to determine whether they anticipate conducting an HHA training class during the fourth quarter of 2026. Of the 15 programs contacted, 2 indicated that they anticipate conducting a class during Q4 2026, 10 indicated that they do not, and 2 were uncertain or did not respond.

Hope currently has an HHA training class scheduled for November 2026

This information will provide a more current indication of the availability of HHA training opportunities on Staten Island and the extent to which approved training programs are actively introducing newly trained workers into the local home care workforce.

Twenty-Year HHA/PCA Training Program

A central component of Hope's paraprofessional workforce strategy is its NYSDOH-approved HHA/PCA training program, which has operated for approximately 20 years. The program provides an entry point for individuals who are interested in home care employment but do not yet possess the training necessary to work as HHAs or PCAs.

For the past two years, Hope's training program has also been supported by Workforce Training and Apprenticeships, which assists with identifying and referring candidates for Hope's classes and provides funding support for eligible training activities. This relationship strengthens Hope's ability to bring new individuals into the direct-care workforce.

Dedicated Recruitment Infrastructure and Workforce Partnerships

Hope maintains a dedicated recruitment team and utilizes multiple workforce-development, employment, educational, and community-based resources to identify professional and paraprofessional candidates. Through these workforce relationships and its broader recruitment activities, Hope interacts with approximately 100 potential candidates per month. Candidates enter Hope's recruitment pipeline at different stages of workforce readiness; some are already trained or credentialed and seeking employment, while others require training and may be appropriate candidates for Hope's HHA/PCA training program.

Hope coordinates directly with the New York State Department of Labor (NYSDOL) through its use of the NYSDOL Job Bank to advertise employment opportunities and reach active jobseekers. Hope also works with Staten Island Workforce1 and participates in workforce and recruitment events that provide direct access to individuals seeking employment.

Additional workforce relationships include Workforce Training and Apprenticeships, Job Corps, Fedcap, America Works, and the HRA PACE Program, among others. These relationships assist Hope in identifying potential employees, referring candidates to employment opportunities, and, where appropriate, directing individuals who require HHA/PCA training into Hope's training program.

These workforce partnerships are supplemented by traditional recruitment methods, including online job boards, social media, employee referrals, recruitment events, community outreach, relationships with educational institutions, and digital and traditional employment advertising.

Hope's nearly 40-year history has also allowed the agency to develop community relationships that complement its traditional recruitment activities. This includes working with resident association presidents and other community leaders in neighborhoods where members of the home care workforce live. These relationships allow Hope to communicate employment and training opportunities directly within communities and reach potential workers who may not otherwise be reached through traditional recruitment.

Recruitment and Development of Professional Nurses

Hope's recruitment strategy for professional nursing staff differs from its paraprofessional recruitment strategy and places greater emphasis on relationships with nursing schools and educational institutions.

Through its relationships with St. Paul's School of Nursing and the Curtis High School nursing/healthcare program, Hope typically recruits approximately five to six graduates from each graduating class. Hope is also establishing relationships with the nursing programs at Wagner College and the College of Staten Island to further expand its pipeline of prospective nursing professionals.

These existing and developing educational relationships provide opportunities to introduce students and newly graduated nurses to home care as an employment option and strengthen Hope's long-term pipeline of professional nursing staff. Hope supplements these educational relationships with its traditional recruitment methods when recruiting experienced RNs and LPNs.

Transportation and Geographic Staffing Strategies

Transportation is an important consideration in Hope's recruitment and staffing strategy. The agency recognizes that transportation challenges differ throughout New York City and therefore considers geography when recruiting employees and making assignments.

Staten Island illustrates the importance of this approach. Because of the borough's geographic separation from the rest of New York City, Hope cannot depend primarily upon workers traveling from other boroughs to staff Staten Island assignments. Staten Island also has only one passenger rail line, and public transportation accessibility differs significantly between communities, particularly between portions of the North and South Shores.

Hope therefore considers employee residence, transportation availability, assignment location, schedule, qualifications, and patient needs when making staffing decisions. Where feasible, employees are matched with assignments that are geographically practical and sustainable. This approach can reduce transportation-related staffing difficulties, improve attendance and assignment stability, and support employee retention.

The same geographic-matching principle is adapted to the transportation and workforce conditions encountered throughout Hope's five-borough service area.

Development of Specialized Workforce Skills

Hope also develops additional capabilities within its existing and newly recruited workforce. One example is the agency's eight-hour in-house training and certification program for HHAs who work with children and adolescents with autism and other special needs.

Depending upon the authorized plan of care and the aide's permitted scope of practice, this additional training prepares aides to support areas such as daily routines and activities of daily living, communication-related needs, sensory considerations, and appropriate behavioral supports.

This approach allows Hope to develop specialized capabilities within its workforce and increase the number of employees prepared for these assignments.

Overall Workforce Strategy

Hope's workforce strategy combines the recruitment of experienced professional and paraprofessional workers with the development of new entrants into healthcare, longstanding

HHA/PCA training, workforce-development partnerships, educational relationships, community-based recruitment, geographic staffing practices, and specialized employee training.

Together, these strategies allow Hope to maintain and develop the workforce necessary to meet patient needs throughout its five-borough service area.

2. Impact on the Existing Workforce and Other Healthcare Providers

Hope does not anticipate that approval of this application will have a significant adverse impact on the existing healthcare workforce or other healthcare providers in the communities it serves.

Because this application involves a change in ownership of an established agency that has operated since 1987, rather than the establishment of a new LHCSA or the introduction of a new provider into the marketplace, approval will not require Hope to suddenly establish an entirely new workforce or undertake large-scale recruitment from other healthcare providers.

Hope already maintains the personnel, operational infrastructure, recruitment and training systems, and direct-care workforce necessary to support its licensed operations throughout the five boroughs of New York City. The proposed ownership change is intended to maintain continuity of Hope's existing operations, workforce infrastructure, and patient services rather than replace or recreate those systems.

Furthermore, as detailed in Question 1, Hope's workforce model is designed to expand the available labor pool rather than rely exclusively upon recruiting workers already employed by other healthcare providers. Hope minimizes potential adverse workforce impacts through several established strategies:

- Developing New Entrants: Hope's approximately 20-year NYSDOH-approved HHA/PCA training program, workforce-development partnerships, nursing-school relationships, and community-based recruitment efforts provide pathways for new individuals to enter the home care workforce.
- Retention and Geographic Matching: Appropriate assignment matching, flexible scheduling, ongoing training and professional development, and geographic staffing practices help Hope retain existing employees, maintain stable assignments, and reduce the need for replacement recruitment.
- Developing Existing Employees: Continuing education and specialized training expand the capabilities of Hope's existing workforce and increase the range of assignments for which employees can be appropriately prepared.
- Maintaining Multiple Workforce Pipelines: Hope's ongoing relationships with workforce-development organizations, educational institutions, community organizations, and public workforce resources provide multiple sources for recruiting and developing professional and paraprofessional workers rather than depending upon recruitment from any single segment of the existing healthcare workforce.

Overall, the proposed ownership change will allow Hope to continue utilizing an existing workforce infrastructure that has been developed over nearly four decades. By combining retention of existing employees with the recruitment, training, and development of new workers, Hope can meet its staffing needs while minimizing additional pressure on the existing New York City healthcare workforce and other healthcare providers.

3. Measures to Promote Workforce Retention

Hope recognizes that sustaining a qualified workforce requires an employment environment that promotes long-term stability and job satisfaction. Drawing on nearly 40 years of home care experience, the agency combines employee benefits, flexibility, ongoing training and professional development, appropriate assignment matching, employee recognition, communication, and clinical and administrative support to promote workforce retention.

- Benefits and Flexible Scheduling: Hope offers eligible employees paid time off (PTO) and a 401(k) retirement plan to support longer-term employment with the agency. To accommodate personal responsibilities, Hope also provides flexible scheduling where operationally feasible, helping employees maintain assignments that are compatible with their availability.
- Geographic and Assignment Matching: Hope considers employee availability, qualifications and competencies, transportation access, assignment location, schedule, and patient needs when making staffing decisions. Where feasible, this allows the agency to create sustainable assignments, reduce transportation-related difficulties and avoidable turnover, and promote continuity of care.
- Training and Professional Development: Hope supports its workforce through required in-service education, competency training, and opportunities to develop additional skills. For example, Hope's eight-hour in-house training and certification program for aides serving children and adolescents with autism and other special needs prepares employees for additional types of assignments within their permitted scope of practice. Hope also provides onboarding and support to nurses entering home care to assist them in developing experience in the home care setting.
- 24-Hour Clinical and Administrative Support: Hope recognizes that direct-care employees frequently work independently in patients' homes and need reliable access to agency support. Hope maintains a 24-hour on-call coordination system through which field employees can obtain assistance and clinical concerns can be escalated to the appropriate clinical supervisor when necessary. During regular operations, employees also have access to nursing, coordination, and administrative staff to address patient-care, scheduling, assignment, and other field-related concerns. This support structure allows issues to be addressed promptly and can help prevent avoidable assignment disruption and employee turnover.
- Employee Recognition and Communication: Hope maintains employee recognition initiatives to acknowledge employee dedication and contributions to the individuals and families the agency serves. Ongoing communication among field employees, coordinators, nursing staff, and administration also allows Hope to identify and address assignment-related concerns, including scheduling and transportation issues, before they contribute to employee dissatisfaction or turnover.

Summary

By combining employee benefits, flexible scheduling, ongoing training and professional development, appropriate assignment matching, employee recognition, communication, and continued clinical and administrative support, Hope seeks to retain the professional and paraprofessional workers it recruits and develops.

These retention measures support workforce stability and continuity of care for patients throughout Hope's five-borough service area.

What is the current availability of professional/paraprofessional workers to staff your program? Who are the competing employers? How do you propose to successfully compete? Include training, recruitment, and transportation strategies. How do you coordinate with the Department of Labor or any other local workforce initiatives?

RESPONSE: This application involves the change of ownership of an existing, operational LHCSA as part of an Assisted Living Program. These services that the LHCSA will be offered will Elizabeth NY ALF OPERATIONS LLC Project No.: 242147 November 25, 2024 Page 2 of 3 continue to be provided to eligible residents of Silver Springs at Binghamton Assisted Living Community, the affiliated Adult Home/ALP, and to eligible residents of Broome County. The Agency is currently fully staffed, and we would expect this to remain until the change in ownership is completed. It is expected that, upon approval as the new Operator of the LHCSA, Silver Springs will retain the professional/paraprofessional staff currently employed by the LHCSA. Additionally, as described in greater detail in their Schedule 1s, the applicant's members have experience in the operation and management of health care facilities in numerous states.

Training – Silver Springs will provide ongoing training programs for their staff including in-house in-service programs, refresher training as part of their quality assurance program as well as specialized training covering topics such as patient rights, emergency preparedness, infection control, fall prevention, dementia, and mental health services. Silver Springs will strive to provide their staff with continuing education programs to keep them up to date on industry best practice and the latest techniques.

Recruitment – As an organization, Silver Springs understands that every effort has to be made to ensure that all open positions are always visible, whether on the agency's website or on major job boards. Candidates will be able to apply via phone, text message, direct application, email and in person, ensuring that there are no barriers to applying for a position. As the result of an existing program, and as noted above, it is the desire of Silver Springs to retain he professional/paraprofessional staff currently employed by the LHCSA upon completion of the change in ownership.

Transportation – As a result of being based in suburban community, Silver Springs employees are able to travel via local roads and through an existing bus system.

What impact will the initiation/expansion of your program have on the workforce or other health care providers in the community? How will you minimize any adverse impact?

RESPONSE: Utilizing available resources is an important part of ensuring that the LHCSA continues to employ qualified candidates to provide high-quality care to patients in accordance with their service plans. The agency intends to keep up to date with DOL hiring events and have ongoing communication with community partners. If the LHCSA requires new staff, it intends to work with the local organizations to identify and vet candidates who are looking for employment.

What measures will you adopt to promote retention of specific categories of your workforce?

RESPONSE: The proposed operator understands that it is critical to promote retention of its workforce. One of the most effective ways to promote retention is to offer competitive compensation packages that include benefits such as health insurance, retirement plans, and paid time off. Silver Springs will implement a compliance program to insure it maintains compliance with all the required Department of Labor regulations for all employees, workers compensation, and worker's disability coverage.

In addition, an annual in service is made to ensure our staff is current with the quality-of-care standards. Another important consideration to promote retention of our workforce is creating a positive work environment that values employee feedback, recognizes employee achievements, and promotes a healthy work-life balance. As an organization that is dependent on its employees for success, Silver Springs will take the initiatives to accommodate the needs of its personnel, even implementing flexible scheduling options, such as part-time work, to accommodate the needs of our workforce.

It is important for providers to establish a culture of respect, trust, and open communication between the levels of organization, management, and employees. Fostering a positive and supportive workplace culture, will hopefully result in a loyal and committed workforce.

MEMO

TO: CON Project File
RE: CON Project # 261181
DATE: 08/03/26

Service Location: 1000 South Avenue, Rochester, NY 14620

Description: Construct a new six-story addition and perform renovations to expand the Emergency Department with no change to total certified beds.

Project Capital Cost: $130,690,340.00

Community Need: The past decade has shown increasing numbers of ED visits to community hospitals. While COVID impacted this in 2020 and 2021, some facilities are back to their pre-COVID numbers or higher. One of these facilities is Highland Hospital, which you can see in Figure 1.

Along with the increased volume seen in the Highland ED since COVID, there is also the issue of patient privacy and quality of care. Due to the significant increase in visits, patients can be roomed in hallway beds, limiting their privacy and the overall quality of their stay. The new space will provide more private rooms to limit the issues seen in the current space.

One other issue that was raised with the applicant was staffing. They felt as though they had proper staffing increases in place to keep up with the additional space the ED and Observation Unit will now occupy.

Projected Changes to Community Access: No changes to community access are projected as the expansion is keeping the same bed count as the current ED space.

Given the above findings, staff recommend approval of the application for the Emergency Department addition and renovation.

Recommendation: Approval

Health Equity Impact Assessment

Part 1 – Project Details

CON Number: 262047
Facility Name: Island Digestive Health Center
Project Type: Full Review
Independent Entity: Sachs Policy Group

Part 2 – Health Equity Impact Summary

A summary statement or paragraph that succinctly demonstrates the anticipated health equity impacts of the proposed project (200 words or less).

The Applicant is seeking to expand their operating license to include minimally invasive vein procedures (vascular surgery) in addition to gastroenterology at an existing ambulatory surgery center. The facility is in West Islip, NY, with a service area consisting of Suffolk, Queens, and Nassau Counties. There are high levels of economic and social stress and high rates of potentially preventable hospitalizations in Suffolk County. The project will positively impact several medically underserved groups, especially women and older adults who are disproportionately at risk for developing vascular conditions. Adults over the age of 60 make up 24% of the area population, and women over half. The service area is predominately White with over 95% of residents covered by health insurance.

The project is expected to improve health equity and reduce disparities by reducing hospital visits, providing timely and cost-effective treatment, and improving safety and convenience. Unintended positive impacts may include earlier detection of vascular issues due to increased access to care and attraction of new patients from underserved communities. Unintended negative impacts include potential scheduling backlogs, and language and navigation challenges for referral patients who are unfamiliar with the facility. Transportation access will not be affected by this project since the facility is not moving. The amount of indigent care may increase slightly due to improved access.

Part 3 – Impact Assessment
When answering questions in Part 3, the reviewer should be guided by the tenet, "Have my responses been reasonable considering the potential health consequences for a proposed project?"	No or small impact may occur	Moderate to large impact may occur
1. Will the proposed project result in an adverse change in health outcomes experienced by the potentially impacted medically underserved group(s)?	☒	☐
2. Will the proposed project result in a reduction in the use of services and health care by the potentially impacted medically underserved group(s)?	☒	☐
3. Will the proposed project result in a reduction in access to quality services and health care?	☒	☐
4. Will the proposed project result in an increase in health disparities or negative health consequences experienced by the potentially impacted medically underserved group(s)?	☒	☐
5. Will the proposed project increase systemic barriers to equitable access to services and health care (e.g., architectural barriers, indigent care, transportation, language barriers, etc.)?	☒	☐
6. Will the proposed project adversely affect the perceived health status, quality of life, access to programs/services, etc. of potentially impacted medically underserved groups?	☒	☐
7. Will the proposed project impede the achievement of the highest level of health for the potentially impacted medically underserved group(s)?	☒	☐

Key insights from community engagement and a summary of how the applicant plans to mitigate any negative health equity impacts to the medically underserved groups identified (200 words or less).

Meaningful engagement included interviews, surveys in English and Spanish, and meetings with community members, staff, physicians, and patients. There were no significant concerns raised by stakeholders, and hospital staff are confident in the capacity and quality standards of the project. One respondent commented that West Islip is "not a majority minority community" but suggested the Applicant "try as best as possible to serve patients who can't pay and to have a fair and equitable distribution of patients' health insurance."

The Applicant's current policies ensure patient access to interpretation services and many staff members are multilingual and experienced in treating Spanish speaking patients. The Applicant has indicated that the current scheduling, space, and staffing capacity will be enough to maintain quality standards during the expansion. The Charity Care Program will be extended to cover new procedures, and a sliding scale fee schedule will ensure all patients receive care regardless of their ability to pay. To recruit and better serve medically underserved patients, the Independent Entity recommends the Applicant partner with community organizations, Federally Qualified Health Centers, senior centers, and women's health providers, and collaborate with transportation services as needed.

The Applicant currently has several mechanisms in place to monitor the impacts of this project including patient satisfaction surveys, follow-up calls to patients, clinical outcome tracking, and root cause analysis for adverse outcomes. The Independent Entity also suggests working with other vascular surgeons and facilities to ensure coordinated implementation of best practices and quality metrics for vein procedures.

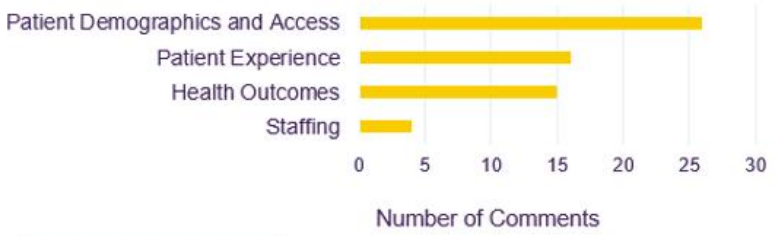
Table depicting the impact of the project on each medically underserved group.

Underserved Group	Impact of Project on Demographic
Racial and ethnic minorities, immigrants	• The Applicant services a highly diverse county-wide population, including significant Hispanic/Latino, Black, Asian, and non-English speaking communities (with Spanish, French Creole, Ukrainian, and Russian being the most common languages spoken other than English). • Expanding vascular services at this facility will leverage the staff's existing experience and established language and navigation support systems to improve healthcare access for these diverse groups, lowering barriers to care and helping to reduce health disparities associated with delayed or absent vascular treatment in minority communities.
Women	• Women make up 50.4% of the service area population and are disproportionately affected by varicose veins and chronic venous insufficiency, which is reflected in the patient base being 80% female (typically aged 50–60). • Expanding local, low-acuity outpatient vein procedures under local anesthetic will directly benefit this demographic. • Providing single-visit, flexibly scheduled outpatient treatments help overcome common barriers to care, such as work and childcare responsibilities, making treatment more accessible for women.
Older adults	• Older adults (over age 60) make up 24% of the service area population and face an increased risk of venous disease, varicose veins, and serious complications like ulcers and thrombosis. • Expanding access to low-acuity, minimally invasive outpatient procedures—such as radiofrequency ablation—offers a safe, cost-effective, and highly tolerated alternative to hospital-based surgery for this demographic. • This outpatient model benefits mobility-limited seniors by reducing transportation barriers, minimizing hospital-acquired infection risks, and enabling early intervention to prevent advanced complications and improve overall quality of life.

People living with a prevalent infectious disease or condition	• Several chronic conditions including hypertension, diabetes, obesity, peripheral artery disease, chronic kidney disease, and lupus, heighten the risk of progressive venous diseases, making early intervention essential to prevent worsening pain and functional limitations. • For patients with these comorbidities, Ambulatory Surgery Centers provide a much safer treatment environment than standard physician offices, offering sterile operating rooms, advanced equipment, and specialized teams equipped to manage procedural risks. • These centers are more cost-effective and efficient than hospital operating rooms, which are best reserved for acute cases. Therefore, this project will allow high-risk patients with chronic conditions to receive necessary vein care in a safe, optimized setting.
People who are eligible for or receive public health benefits, people who do not have third-party health coverage or have inadequate third-party health coverage, other people who are unable to obtain health care	• While health insurance coverage is high in the service area (96.2%) and Suffolk County (95.3%), the local health department identifies uninsured and underinsured individuals (including the 6.5% of the county population living below the poverty line) as a key underserved group. • Chronic vein disease causes significant productivity loss, with up to 10% of patients missing workdays. • By expanding vein services, this project is expected to improve access to preventive treatment for these vulnerable populations, helping to reduce health disparities and mitigate the economic impact of untreated chronic vein disease.

13 stakeholders were engaged: patients or residents and/or their caregivers, employees, and others. 12 voiced support of the project and one chose not answer.

Themes from Meaningful Engagement



In their words…

ASCs are extremely safe for lower acuity cases that should not be in hospitals - ORs should be reserved for higher acuity cases.
-Summary statement from a subject matter expert

She highlights that the center is very organized in terms of scheduling, and that there are never any surprises…She thinks they have the capacity to add more cases.
-Summary statement from an employee

The respondent had only positive things to say about her experience at the center, emphasizing that everything was smooth, the instructions were thorough, and the follow-up was appropriate. They day of her procedure everything was smooth and on time, and staff were friendly and assuring. It was a pleasant experience, and she has recommended the facility to her friends.
-Summary statement from a patient

The respondent noted that the addition of vein services at other facilities have been positively received and had positive impacts. Since the addition of vein services, referrals have increased.
-Summary statement from a subject matter expert

of comments concern patient demographics and access to care

26%
of comments pertain to the patient experience

25%
of comments are about health outcomes

7%
of comments are in regards to staff training

Patient Demographics and Access to Care

Stakeholders describe a highly diverse, multi-ethnic, and multilingual patient population within a large service area. The facility serves a wide range of financial backgrounds, accepting Medicaid, commercial insurance, employer-sponsored plans, and provides charity care for uninsured individuals. This project is expected to provide a safer, lower-cost, and more efficient environment for low-acuity procedures, expanding access to care and keeping hospital operating rooms open for high-acuity cases.

Patient Experience

Patient respondents expressed satisfaction with their care and describe positive experiences with staff. Patients who already trust the staff will feel much more comfortable receiving vein care in the same familiar environment rather than being referred to an unfamiliar clinic. Staff describe the center as "very organized" with "never any surprises" regarding scheduling. There is a high level of trust in the leadership and facility's operational efficiency.

Health Outcomes

Collocating vein services within an established, trusted facility may increase patient compliance, improving health outcomes. While some view vein procedures as cosmetic, they primarily treat chronic venous insufficiency, a progressive condition that can cause pain, blood clots, open wounds, and, in rare cases, amputation. Offering this service will provide care for complex patients with comorbidities who cannot be safely treated in a standard office.

Staffing

Staff noted that while they can easily balance the patient load, leadership must monitor volume closely to ensure staffing levels remain adequate as the number of vein procedures increases. Recommendations include establishing an open, ongoing dialogue between the existing physicians and the incoming vascular surgeons to ensure clinical alignment.

Part 4 – Conclusion

☒ Approval is recommended based on the information and analysis presented in the Health Equity Impact Assessment and the applicant's mitigation plan, which demonstrates the proposed project will not result in any significant adverse health equity impacts.

☐ Approval is not recommended based on the information and analysis presented in the Health Equity Impact Assessment, which demonstrates that the proposed project may result in one or more potentially large or significant adverse health equity impacts.

RE: CON Project # 261285
DATE: 10/14/26

Service Location: 35 Canal Landing Boulevard, Greece, NY, 14626

Description: Cornerstone Surgery Center would like to convert the existing extension clinic at 135 Canal Landing Boulevard, Greece, from a single specialty ambulatory surgery center (ASC) to a multi-specialty ambulatory surgery center.

Project Capital Cost: $160,000.00

Community Need: Increased access to multi-specialty ambulatory surgery centers will benefit the community through decreased wait time from additional capacity.

Projected Changes to Community Access: The community will have greater access to surgical care from this expansion of the ASC from single specialty to multi-specialty

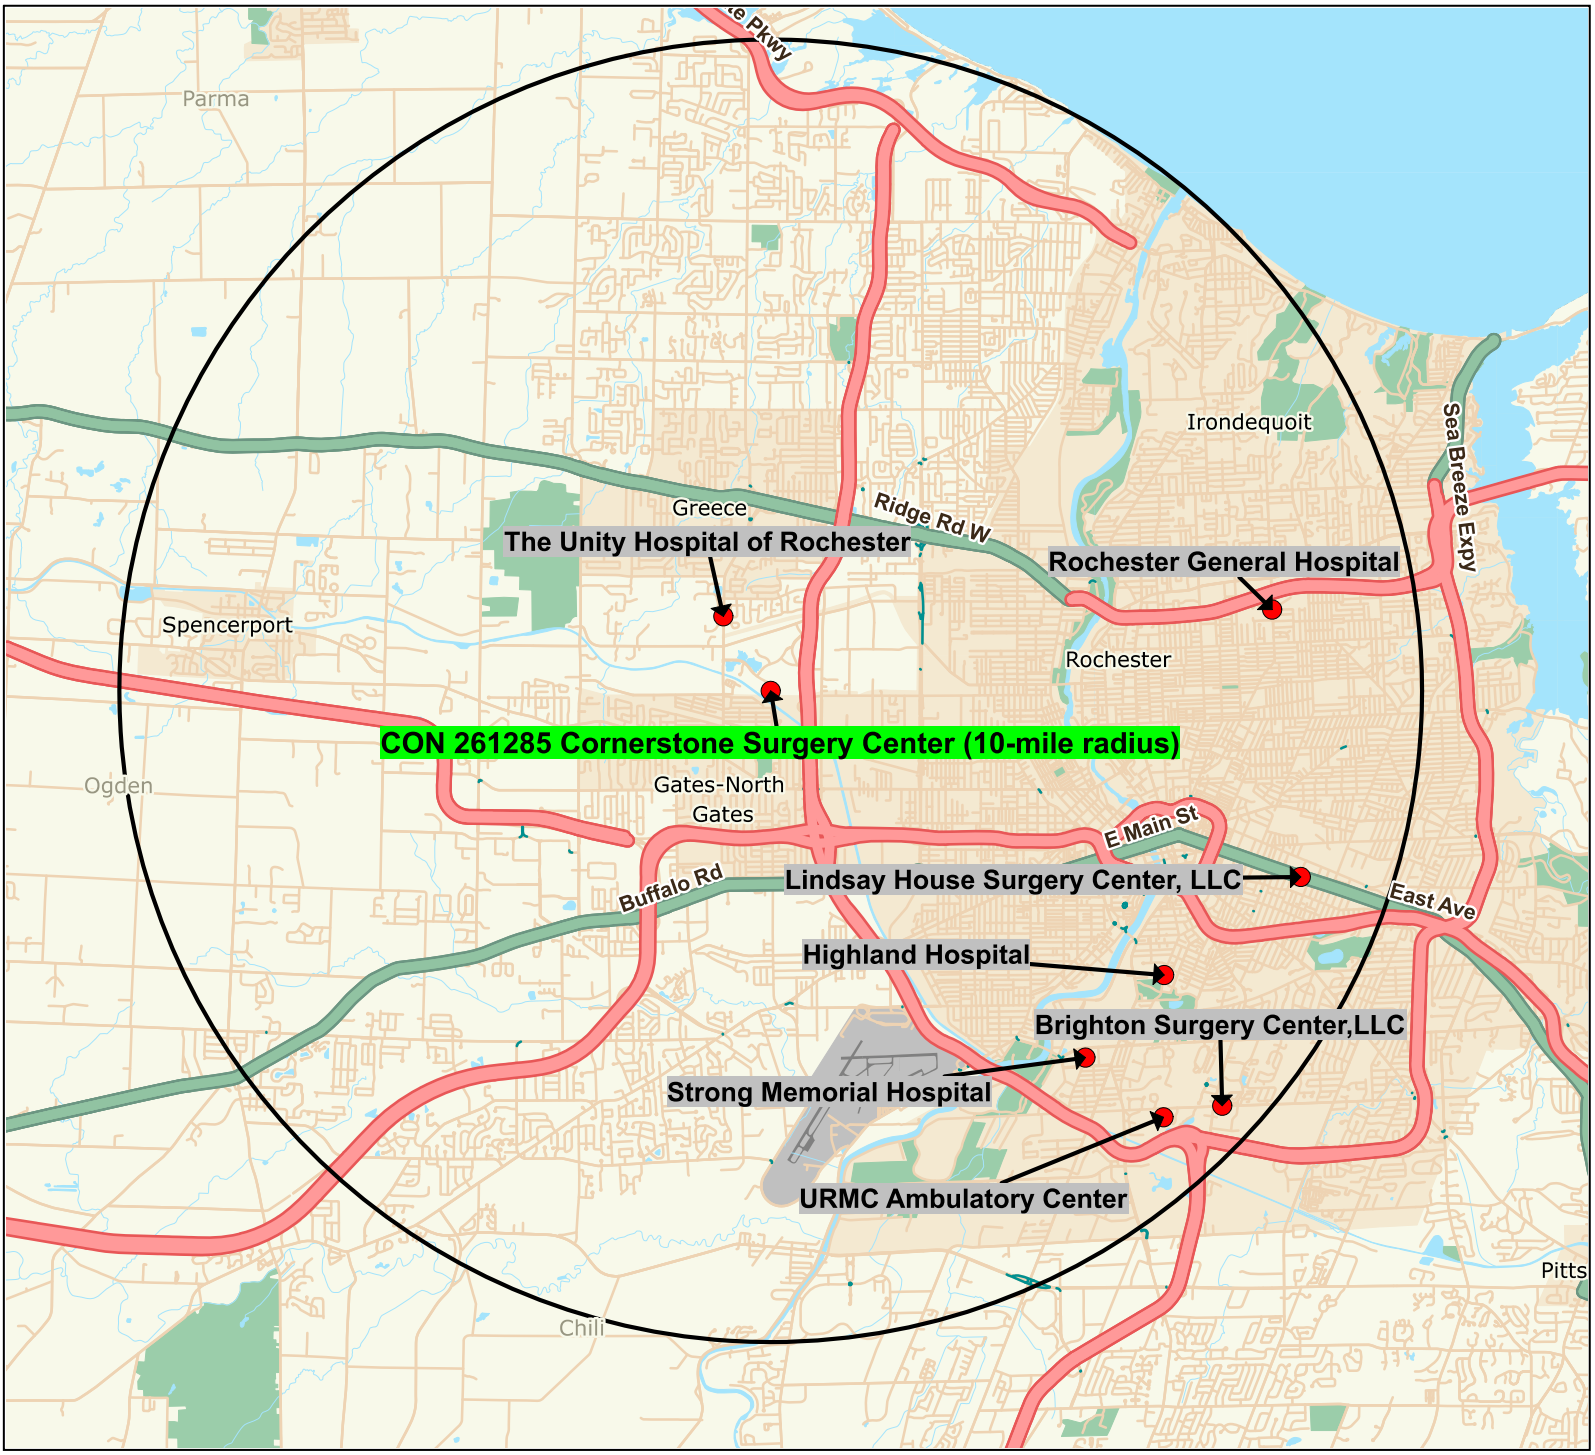
Given the above findings, staff recommend approval of the application to convert the ASC from single to multi-specialty

Recommendation: Approval

Contingencies: None

Conditions: None

Comments: None



The map above shows facilities providing multi-specialty ambulatory surgical services within a 10-mile radius of Certificate of Need 261285 Cornerstone Surgery Center.

Health Equity Impact Assessment

Part 1 – Project Details

CON Number: 261134
Facility Name: Weill Cornell Imaging at New York Presbyterian
Project Type: Full Review
Independent Entity: Sachs Policy Group

Part 2 – Health Equity Impact Summary

A summary statement or paragraph that succinctly demonstrates the anticipated health equity impacts of the proposed project (200 words or less).

The Independent Entity identified Kings and Richmond Counties as the project's service area. Medically underserved groups were identified using the Applicant's utilization data, publicly available census data, and the New York City Community Health Profile. The medically underserved groups most impacted include older adults, women, and immigrants. One third of New York City's adults aged 65 and older live in Kings County, and older adults use imaging services at higher rates than younger populations. Women have significantly higher rates for using imaging services than men, and Kings and Richmond counties suffer a higher mortality rate from breast cancer than New York County. Additionally, 34% of the service area population are immigrants, who will benefit from a local, modernized facility with improved navigation. There are medium to high rates of potentially preventable hospitalizations and social and economic stress in the project's service area. The impacts of this project are entirely positive and include reduced travel times and transportation barriers, expanded access to care, and provision of testing to decrease mortality rates for conditions such as breast cancer. No unintended health equity impacts were identified.

Part 3 – Impact Assessment
When answering questions in Part 3, the reviewer should be guided by the tenet, "Have my responses been reasonable considering the potential health consequences for a proposed project?"	No or small impact may occur	Moderate to large impact may occur
1. Will the proposed project result in an adverse change in health outcomes experienced by the potentially impacted medically underserved group(s)?	☒	☐
2. Will the proposed project result in a reduction of use of services and health care by the potentially impacted medically underserved group(s)?	☒	☐
3. Will the proposed project result in a reduction of access to quality services and health care?	☒	☐
4. Will the proposed project result in an increase in health disparities or negative health consequences experienced by the potentially impacted medically underserved group(s)?	☒	☐
5. Will the proposed project increase systemic barriers to equitable access to services and health care (e.g., architectural barriers, indigent care, transportation, language barriers, etc.)?	☒	☐
6. Will the proposed project adversely affect the perceived health status, quality of life, access to programs/services, etc. of potentially impacted medically underserved groups?	☒	☐
7. Will the proposed project impede the achievement of the highest level of health for the potentially impacted medically underserved group(s)?	☒	☐

Key insights from community engagement and a summary of how the applicant plans to mitigate any negative health equity impacts to the medically underserved groups identified (200 words or less).

Meaningful engagement was conducted with 124 stakeholders, including employees, community-based organizations, patients and their caregivers, community residents, and public health experts. 83% of stakeholders were in support of the project, and all other stakeholders were neutral or undecided. Stakeholders provided feedback via email, phone calls and an online survey. Feedback from stakeholders was overwhelmingly centered on shorter travel times and reduced travel burden. None of the stakeholders identified potential negative impacts or concerns.

While no negative impacts were identified, strategies from the Applicant's mitigation plan include comprehensive health education and outreach programs to be conducted in a multitude of community venues. For monitoring, the Applicant currently tracks access metrics and participates in Mammography Quality Standards Act which requires the facility to meet federally developed quality standards. In addition to these existing mechanisms, the Independent Entity recommends the Applicant monitor access and equity indicators over time. They also suggested the Applicant review patient demographics, payer mix, referral patterns, no-show rates, language access needs, and patient feedback.

Table depicting the impact of the project on each medically underserved group.

Underserved Group	Impact of Project on Demographic
Immigrants / foreign-born individuals	• Bay Ridge has a significant immigrant population, with 34% of its 78,000 residents being foreign-born and 52% speaking a language other than English at home (primarily Chinese, Spanish, and Arabic). These residents face barriers to healthcare such as language access, insurance coverage, high costs, and difficulties navigating the healthcare system, which often lead to delayed medical care and poorer health outcomes. • The project is expected to simplify healthcare navigation for immigrant families by offering localized care. To maximize its impact, the center would implement supportive services, including multilingual outreach, translated patient materials, interpreter services, culturally appropriate scheduling, and coordinated follow-up care. • The project may reduce logistical and communication barriers, facilitate timely diagnoses, and decrease health disparities among this population.
Women	• Although women make up about half of the general population, they represent 68% of patients at the Applicant's facilities. This higher utilization is likely driven by greater engagement with preventive care and clinical needs, such as breast, gynecological, and obstetric imaging. • The proposed project will improve access to screening and diagnostic imaging, including pregnancy-related ultrasounds and breast imaging. The facility will offer onsite breast interventions, like biopsies. • By co-locating breast imaging and biopsy services, the project eliminates the need for patients to travel to multiple sites or schedule separate appointments following an abnormal result; reducing patient anxiety, supporting faster diagnoses, and helping to prevent the care delays that often lead to worse health outcomes and disparities in breast cancer treatment.
Older adults	• Older adults (65 and older) make up 16% of the population in Brooklyn and Staten Island and 18% of the population in Bay Ridge, which is characterized as a Naturally Occurring Retirement Community (NORC) where residents are aging in place. • Because imaging utilization rises with age and is highest among Medicare populations, this growing demographic represents a major source of demand, as seen in high utilization rates across existing locations. • The proposed project is expected to improve access for older adults by providing services in a local outpatient setting, it minimizes travel burdens and simplifies appointment logistics for older adults, particularly those with mobility limitations. • The center will support the diagnosis and management of chronic conditions, falls, cancer, and cardiovascular diseases, which are highly prevalent in older populations. • By adding new imaging capacity to an area where other providers have reported waitlists, the project will help prevent delays in diagnosis and treatment planning.

124 stakeholders were engaged: patients or residents and/or their caregivers, community-based organizations, employees, and public health experts. 83% voiced support of the project.

Themes from Meaningful Engagement

In their words…

"An imaging center on 86th street would not only greatly benefit me personally but other residents in Bay Ridge who need access to health services in a more convenient location. Especially for the larger portion of the elderly population who would need somewhere closer…a new location would help patients receive care sooner with more appointments being available as well as different insurances being accepted."
-Statement from a patient

"The current imaging options in Bay Ridge are subpar. Long wait times, staff isn't well trained and often not very friendly, waiting for appointments could take months. Managers aren't well trained in leading the centers. NYP has been very organized, very clean, very friendly , great bedside manners, puts patients at ease. If they can continue this and give Bay Ridge a better, more organized imagining option that would be wonderful."

"The facility should conduct targeted outreach to low-income populations and patients within and outside the health system. Outreach materials should be available in multiple languages and distributed through trusted community partners, including faith-based organizations, community-based organizations, and educational institutions."
-Excerpt of a statement from Public Health Expert

Travel and Location

Patients largely support this project noting a significant reduction in the travel burden. A large number respondents currently travel to Manhattan or other parts of Brooklyn for imaging. They describe this travel as time-consuming and costly. The proposed location is praised for its proximity to public transit, including the subway and local buses. This is especially important for the elderly, individuals with mobility challenges, and those who do not drive or cannot afford car services.

Patient Experience

Patients anticipate the same high-quality level of care they receive currently to continue at the new location. They praise the facility and staff at NYP and contrast that with existing imaging option that suffer from long wait times, poorly trained staff, and appointment delays.

Access to Care

Employees noted that certain high-demand exams, such as mammography and ultrasound, currently have long waitlists and that the new clinic is expected to relieve pressure on the existing healthcare infrastructure. This project will fill a gap in available services in the area and increase access to healthcare services for medically underserved groups.

Community Outreach and Partnerships

Community-based organizations expressed support for the project and are eager to collaborate. Public health experts emphasized the need to design the clinic with health equity at the forefront. Recommendations include conducting outreach to low-income populations in multiple languages through trusted organizations, recruit staff reflecting the diversity of the community, and provide transportation assistance, financial aid counseling, language translation, and on-site social service enrollment.

Part 4 – Conclusion

☒ Approval is recommended based on the information and analysis presented in the Health Equity Impact Assessment and the applicant's mitigation plan, which demonstrates the proposed project will not result in any significant adverse health equity impacts.

☐ Approval is not recommended based on the information and analysis presented in the Health Equity Impact Assessment, which demonstrates that the proposed project may result in one or more potentially large or significant adverse health equity impacts.
