

Bureau of HIV Ambulatory Care Services Initiatives

The Bureau of HIV Ambulatory Care Services (BHACS), within the New York State Department of Health's AIDS Institute, administers six core initiatives designed to promote the provision of high-quality, equitable HIV primary care and clinical prevention services by facilities licensed under Article 28 of Public Health Law. These programs aim to eliminate health disparities and improve clinical outcomes for New Yorkers living with or at-risk for HIV acquisition by expanding access to integrated clinical care, rapid treatment, and essential support services within ambulatory and community health care settings.

The Bureau manages the following initiatives:

- Centers for Young Adults (CYA)
- Young Adult Community Access Program (YACAP)
- Family-Focused Health Care (FFHC)
- Retention and Adherence Program (RAP)
- PrEP-Exposure Prophylaxis Services in Community Health Care settings (PrEP)
- PrEP Telehealth Project

Centers for Young Adults (CYA)

The Centers for Young Adults (CYAs) model is a multi-step medical case management framework specifically designed for adolescents and young adults (ages 13–29) living with HIV. The program integrates HIV primary care and care coordination with sexual and behavioral health services to promote sustained engagement in treatment and improve HIV clinical outcomes. The model facilitates access to critical biomedical interventions that increase the achievement of viral load suppression (e.g. Long-acting Injectables) and reduce the transmission of sexually transmitted infections (e.g. Doxycycline Post-Exposure Prophylaxis to prevent bacterial sexually transmitted infections). To reduce barriers to care and treatment, programs systematically identify social determinants of health and coordinate the receipt of supportive service needs identified. Funded services include Medical Case Management, Health Education/Risk Reduction, and Psychosocial Support Services.

Client Eligibility

The following documentation must be provided:

- Confirmation of HIV/AIDS diagnosis
- Proof of NYS residency
- Proof that household income does not exceed 500% of the Federal Poverty Level (FPL) for the documented number of individuals in the household.

Young Adult Community Access Programs (YACAP)

Young Adult Community Access Programs (YACAP) provide low-threshold clinical, behavioral, and sexual health services tailored to the needs of adolescents and young adults (ages 13–29) who are at risk for, or unaware of their HIV status. Low-threshold services include testing and treatment for sexually transmitted infections; PrEP prescribing includes rapid start; Rapid Initiation of Anti-Retroviral Therapy upon diagnosis, pregnancy testing, family planning/contraceptive counseling, and hepatitis A, B, and C screening, vaccination, and treatment. Programs focus on activities that promote knowledge of serostatus, increase immediate treatment access, facilitate engagement into ongoing primary care, and increase utilization of biomedical interventions to reduce HIV transmission, sexually transmitted infections, and hepatitis transmission. To reduce barriers to care and treatment, programs systematically identify social determinants of health and coordinate the receipt of supportive service needs identified.

Client Eligibility

The following documentation must be provided:

- Verification the adolescent or young adults is between 13 to 29 years of age.

Family-Focused HIV Health Care for Women (FFHC)

The Family-Focused HIV Health Care for Women model is a multi-step medical case management model for women or child-bearing individuals living with HIV with who are pregnant, planning a pregnancy, or are the primary caregiver for dependent children under 18 years of age. The programs provide comprehensive HIV and primary care, sexual and behavioral health services, and the coordination of supportive services. To improve maternal and neo-natal health outcomes programs must provide co-located pediatric, obstetric, and gynecological services that are coordinated with the child-bearer's HIV care, treatment, and supportive services. Programs also provide essential access to biomedical interventions to increase the achievement of viral load suppression (e.g. Long-acting Injectables). To reduce barriers to care and treatment, programs systematically identify social determinants of health and coordinate the receipt of supportive service needs identified. Funded services include Medical Case Management, Health Education/Risk Reduction, and Psychosocial Support Services.

Client Eligibility

The following documentation must be provided:

- Confirmation of HIV/AIDS diagnosis
- Proof of NYS residency
- Proof that household income does not exceed 500% of the Federal Poverty Level (FPL) for the documented number of individuals in the household

Retention and Adherence Program (RAP)

The Retention and Adherence Program (RAP) is a multi-step medical case management model that ensures individuals living with HIV receive timely, high-quality HIV clinical care. Programs provide comprehensive and coordinated HIV primary care and sexual health services. The program facilitates immediate initiation of anti-retroviral treatment following a diagnosis or upon re-engagement in HIV care. The model provides essential access to biomedical interventions that increase the achievement of viral load suppression (e.g. Long-acting Injectables) and reduce the transmission of sexually transmitted infections (e.g. Doxycycline Post-Exposure Prophylaxis to prevent sexually transmitted bacterial infections). To reduce barriers to care and treatment, programs systematically identify social determinants of health and coordinate the receipt of supportive service needs identified. The funded service is Medical Case Management.

Client Eligibility

The following documentation must be provided:

- Confirmation of HIV/AIDS diagnosis
- Proof of NYS residency
- Proof that household income does not exceed 500% of the Federal Poverty Level (FPL) for the documented number of individuals in the household

Multiple Service Agency (MSA – Targeted Prevention and Support Services)

Multiple Service Agency programs utilize a comprehensive “one-stop shop” model to expand access to high-quality HIV prevention and primary care services for individuals at risk for or living with HIV. Prevention services include the provision of Pre-Exposure Prophylaxis for HIV prevention prescribing, rapid start therapy, HIV, sexually transmitted infection, and Hepatitis screening, diagnosis, and treatment; and rapid engagement in HIV clinical care and treatment for individuals newly diagnosed. For those living with HIV, the program provides a multi-step medical case management model, immediate initiation of antiretroviral treatment after HIV diagnosis or re-engagement, treatment adherence counseling, routine sexually transmitted infection and hepatitis screening and treatment, and access to biomedical prevention interventions such as Doxycycline Post-Exposure Prophylaxis to prevent sexually transmitted bacterial infection, and access to long-acting injectables. To reduce barriers to care and treatment, programs systematically identify social determinants of health and coordinate the receipt of supportive service needs identified. Funded services include Medical Case Management, Health Education/Risk Reduction,

Psychosocial Support Services, and Biomedical HIV Prevention.

Client Eligibility

- Enrollment in services for individuals living with HIV requires documented proof of HIV status.
- PrEP and PEP services are available to any person in need of a PrEP/PEP prescriber, assistance to maintain ongoing engagement in clinical treatment, or assistance in accessing supportive services to reduce social determinants of health that reduce engagement in care.

Pre-Exposure Prophylaxis (PrEP) Services

The Pre-Exposure Prophylaxis Services Initiative funds the delivery of a comprehensive scope of services that provide access to prescribing of Pre-Exposure Prophylaxis for HIV and Doxycycline Post-Exposure Prophylaxis (Doxy PEP) to prevent bacterial sexually transmitted infections, Program models include rapid start therapy; routine sexually transmitted infection and hepatitis screening, diagnosis, and treatment; access to long-acting injectables, and rapid engagement in HIV clinical care and treatment for individuals newly diagnosed. To reduce barriers to care and treatment, programs systematically identify social determinants of health and coordinate the receipt of supportive service needs identified.

Client Eligibility

- Individuals who would benefit from access to a PrEP prescriber, sexual health services, assistance to maintain engagement in PrEP, or assistance in accessing supportive services to reduce social determinants of health that reduce engagement in care.

Pre-Exposure Prophylaxis (PrEP) Telehealth Pilot Project

These pilot projects fund the development of hybrid or fully remote telehealth models that expand virtual access to the prescribing of Pre-Exposure Prophylaxis for HIV and sexually transmitted infection preventions. Funded programs systematically identify social determinants of health and coordinate the receipt of supportive service needs identified.

Client Eligibility

- Individuals seeking PrEP prescribing, sexual health services, assistance to maintain engagement in PrEP, or individuals prescribed PrEP who require supportive services to reduce the social determinants of health that reduce engagement in care.
