

Housing support through Medicaid.

Having a safe and stable place to live is especially important if you or someone you love has a health condition. If you are enrolled in Medicaid, you or your family may qualify for support connecting to housing services depending on your living situation and health status.

To learn more about services available in your community, reach out to your local Social Care Network.

Department of Health
Medicaid

Scan Here

health.ny.gov/SocialCareNetworks