

BACK TO SCHOOL SAFETY

GRAPHIC 1

CAPTION

It's back to school season! Kids can be unpredictable! Never go on your phone while behind the wheel. Slow down and stay alert for school zone signs. Staying alert of your surroundings can help keep a child safe. Learn more: nhtsa.gov/school-bus-safety/keeping-children-safe

GRAPHIC 2

CAPTION

Now is the time to talk to children about school bus safety. Start by telling them to stay at least 10 feet from the curb while waiting and always wait until the bus comes to a full stop before moving toward it. Find more tips: nhtsa.gov/school-bus-safety/keeping-children-safe

Public Health Toolkit

Social Media

Department
of Health

GRAPHIC 3

CAPTION

Heads up! It's back to school time which means kids are walking near you and near schools. Be aware and be safe: health.ny.gov/prevention/injury_prevention/pedestrians/

GRAPHIC 4

CAPTION

An important resource to help parents monitor and manage a teens' driving -- the Parent-Teen driving agreement: trafficsafety.ny.gov/form/parent-teen-contract

Public Health Toolkit

Social Media

Department
of Health

GRAPHIC 5

CAPTION

If you have school-age kids playing sports, focus on eye protection:
health.ny.gov/prevention/injury_prevention/sports_protection.htm

GRAPHIC 6

CAPTION

As you're packing lunches, remember food safety:

- 🧊 For perishable foods, use an insulated bag/tote.
- 🧊 Use 2 cold sources, like frozen water bottles, frozen juice boxes or freezer packs.

More info: foodsafety.gov/blog/back-school-meal-prep-easy-1-2-3

Public Health Toolkit

Social Media

Department of Health