This session offers a practical foundation in Acquired Brain Injury, including concussions, other Traumatic Brain Injuries (TBI), and hypoxic events. Learn how these often-underrecognized injuries can shape behavior, cognition, and recovery, particularly with behavioral health or substance use challenges. Through real-world case examples, participants will learn to identify possible indicators of brain injury even without a formal diagnosis. They will also gain insight into how brain injuries are assessed and confirmed in clinical practice.

All stakeholders are welcome! Continuing medical education and continuing education credits will be available for physicians, nurses, social workers, psychologists, credentialed alcoholism and substance abuse counselors, and licensed mental health counselors.

This activity has been planned and implemented in accordance with the Accreditation Requirements and Policies of the Medical Society of the State of New York (MSSNY) through the joint providership of the New York State Office of Mental Health's Bureau of Psychiatric Services & Research Institute Support and the New York State Department of Health. The Bureau of Psychiatric Services & Research Institute Support is accredited by MSSNY to provide continuing medical education for physicians.

The Bureau of Psychiatric Services & Research Institute Support designates this live activity for a maximum of 1 AMA PRA Category 1 Credit™. Physicians should claim only the credit commensurate with the extent of their participation in the activity.

The Bureau of Psychiatric Services & Research Institute Support relies upon planners and faculty participants to provide educational information that is objective and free of bias. In this spirit, and in accordance with the Bureau of Psychiatric Services & Research Institute Support & MSSNY guidelines, all speakers & planners must follow guidelines. They must disclose financial relationships with ineligible companies whose products, devices, or services may be discussed in the CME content or may be perceived as a real or apparent conflict of interest. Any discussion of investigational or unlabeled use of a product will be identified.

The planners and presenters for this educational activity do not have any financial relationships to disclose with ineligible companies whose primary business is producing, marketing, selling, reselling, or distributing health care products used by or on patients.

This activity has been submitted to VTL Center for Professional Development for approval to award contact hours. VTL Center for Professional Development is accredited as an approver of nursing continuing professional development by the American Nurses Credentialing Center's Commission on Accreditation.
