"The college environment offers tremendous opportunities for degree students to be connected to resources. These benefits are not offered at every college campus, or to every student if they are not a college degree student. Financial aid is available. This paramedic program uses AI apps to enhance studying and learning, as well as augmented reality and virtual reality, with the newest versions of full body manikins independent task trainers. As college students, grants cover State and National Credentialing exam fees, textbooks, uniforms, additional certification classes, protocol applications, and we are staffed with highly educated, critical care paramedics and educators who are active on the local and State committees. "Under new program direction the Paramedic Program at ECH is student focused and working to provide real life education for rural EMS. Students have access to over 30 clinical agencies and several of our rural / critical access hospitals. Students have opportunities to work one on one with our medical directors and be involved in front line patient care in the Adirondack Region."
